

Building update

The building is starting to come together, anytime you have a construction project, it never looks like everything is gonna get done, but it eventually all works out. The custodians have worked hard to clean areas that are finished and turned back over to us. We will be working this week to get as much back in place as soon as possible before new teachers arrive next week.

Hiring update

You approved hires earlier in the meeting so we are fully staffed at this point. I certainly hope nothing changes between now and the start of the year.

Back to school

Sports and activities started today that brings another level of energy to the building. Openhouse is set for Sept. 2nd. Homecoming is Sept. 25. Due to the later start this school year things will happen quickly.
