HB 860 requires an update to policy regarding student health, physical screenings, and examinations. Policy 3500 has been revised to include new exceptions to the law requiring parental consent for health services. Schools can now provide non-emergency first aid without parent consent, and there have been changes to the types of emergency care that can be provided without parent consent. This update also incorporates a statement that parents cannot be required to provide a blanket consent to health care. Policy 3500F has been revised to following the specific requirements for the content and format of the form parents can use to provide an optional blanket consent to health care services. The form has also been updated to meet the requirements for the types of care that can be provided without parent consent and some general cleanup.

Administration recommends adopting the revised policy 3500 and 3500F. The recommendation aligns with the MDSD Strategic Plan.
