

Lead with Love

Love is intentionally recognizing, encouraging, and developing others' gifts, talents, and interests so they grow into the best version of themselves and use those strengths to serve and strengthen the greater good.

Lead with Love: From Empathy to Action

How might we better understand the experiences of our...

Staff | Students | Families

Using design thinking, our administrative team began this work during our summer leadership retreat. On Institute Day, our staff will continue the work—leading with empathy, asking questions with curiosity, and considering how we might better serve our staff, students, and families.
