Teaching and Learning Board Report August 2025

Updates:

District Assessment

In the North Santiam School District, the primary purpose of assessment is to understand student learning and guide instruction. We use assessments to clearly understand what students know and what they need to work on. This information allows our educators to make practical, data-informed decisions in the classroom. By understanding each student's academic needs, we can adjust our teaching to support their growth and improve student outcomes.

Types of Assessments: We utilize a variety of assessments to gather a comprehensive view of student learning:

- Formative Assessments: These are ongoing, informal checks for understanding that happen in the classroom every day. They include observations, questioning, and exit tickets, and they allow teachers to adjust their instruction in the moment to meet the immediate needs of their students.
- Interim Assessments: These are assessments administered at regular intervals throughout the school year to track student progress toward mastering specific standards. They provide a snapshot of student learning and help us identify students needing additional support or enrichment.
- Summative Assessments: These are assessments given at the end of a unit, course, or grade level to evaluate student mastery of learning standards. They provide a summary of what students have learned and are used to measure the effectiveness of our instructional programs.
- Benchmark Assessments: These are standardized tests administered at the beginning of the school year to screen all students and identify those at risk for academic difficulties. They provide a baseline of student performance against which we can measure progress throughout the year.

Using a balanced assessment system directly improves teaching and learning in our schools. The data we gather shows each student's strengths and areas for growth, allowing our teachers to adjust their instruction to meet individual student needs. By identifying and addressing learning gaps early on, we can ensure that all students receive the support they need to be successful. Furthermore, when students track their progress and understand their learning goals, they become more engaged and take greater ownership of their education.

Utilizing Diagnostic Data for Instructional Practice

This year, we are committed to implementing Renaissance Star Assessments as a key assessment and instruction framework component. The suite of Renaissance tools provides us with a seamless system for benchmarking, progress monitoring, and differentiation. We use Renaissance Star CBM, Star Early Literacy, Star Reading, and Star Math as our primary benchmark and progress monitoring tools. These computer-adaptive assessments provide reliable and valid data on student performance in key academic areas. The data from Star Assessments allows us to screen all students to identify those who may need additional support, monitor their progress over time, and set meaningful goals for their academic growth.

The power of the Renaissance suite lies in its ability to connect assessment to instruction. The data from Star Assessments is used to automatically place students into Freckle ELA, K-2 Lalilo, and Freckle Math. These tools provide differentiated practice and instruction that is adaptive to each student's needs.

- Freckle provides students in all grades with personalized practice in ELA and math at their own level. It is an engaging and effective way for students to build their skills and confidence.
- Lalilo is specifically designed for our youngest learners in grades K-2, focusing on building a strong foundation in early literacy skills.

By connecting assessment and instruction, we can provide our students with a personalized learning experience. Our teachers are equipped with the data and tools they need to make informed instructional decisions, and our students are engaged in meaningful learning tailored to their individual needs.

Continuous Improvement - Leadership Retreat

As part of our ongoing commitment to continuous improvement and the calibration of our leadership practices, during the 2025-2026 school year, we are calibrating and systematizing our improvement processes through the standardized application of the Plan-Do-Study-Act (PDSA) framework. This initiative directly supports the district's goals for increasing achievement in mathematics, growth for every student in literacy, and improving our students' attendance. Additionally, these efforts ensure compliance with the data-driven improvement requirements outlined in OAR 581-022-2250 (District Improvement Plans) by implementing a standardized, district-wide methodology for systemic change, utilizing short-term, incremental data cycles to monitor and adjust our efforts.

- Systematizing Data-Driven Decision Making: The PDSA framework requires that all strategic decisions are based on quantitative and qualitative evidence, ensuring a consistent, data-informed process at all operational levels.
- Establishing a Continuous Improvement Framework: The iterative nature of PDSA establishes a formal structure for continuous improvement rather than relying on intermittent initiatives.
- Structuring Professional Collaboration: This approach will be operationalized through existing Professional Learning Community (PLC) structures, providing a clear protocol for their collaborative work.

A Focus on PDSA Cycles: The leadership team will undergo targeted training to ensure uniform implementation of the PDSA cycle. The following operational steps define the process:

1. Plan: Identify specific, measurable, achievable, relevant, and time-bound (SMART) goals for math, literacy, and attendance. Utilize district data protocols to conduct root-cause analysis and develop targeted intervention strategies.
2. Do: Execute the intervention strategies on a limited scale to allow for controlled monitoring and rapid adjustment.
3. Study: PLCs will execute established data protocols to analyze the impact of the implemented interventions. This includes granular analysis of student work, formative/summative assessment data, and attendance records.
4. Act: Based on the data from the "Study" phase, a determination will be made to adopt, adapt, or abandon the strategy. This outcome dictates the parameters for the subsequent improvement cycle.

Below are a few slides from our leadership retreat in August:

Reflecting on PDSA Cycles

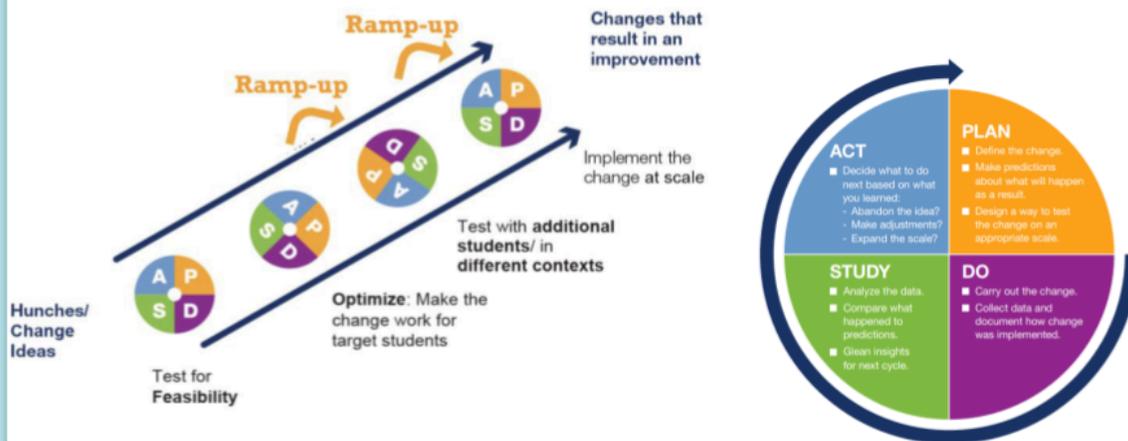

Philosophy: By starting small, testing, and refining changes before going to scale across the school, we can ensure our changes have maximum impact toward achieving our aim.

Key Concepts:

- Single Step: Test only one small idea
- Short Duration: Brief cycles (1-4 weeks)
- Small Sample Size: Small sample size per cycle (1-5 students, 1-3 teachers, 1 school); scale up as data demonstrates improvement

Reflecting on PDSA Cycles

PDSA Cycle, Example 1

PDSA Form

Test Title:	Goal-Setting and Planning Conversations	Date:	2/3/2016
Tester:	Petra	Cycle #:	1
What change idea is being tested?	Conversations with students to identify barriers and strategies for overcoming them	Driver:	Interview a student
What is the overall GOAL of the test?	Learn whether these conversations are feasible with middle school students to make a plan after failing an assessment
1) PLAN Goals: Describe the who/what/where/when for the test. Include your data-collection plan. --We will each (3 teachers) find at least one opportunity to have a goal-setting conversation with a student after a student fails an assessment in the next 2 days --Petra will create a data-collection sheet that includes both the protocol for the conversation and a place to record data and notes, each team member will record notes on the form and bring it to the huddle on Friday --At the huddle we will assess whether the barriers identified are in students' control or out of their control. We will also assess each of our predictions and decide what to do next.		2) DO Briefly describe what happened during the test, surprises, obstacles, successes, etc. --All three conversations happened. One in class and two after class, 1 student seemed a little surprised by the conversation. All very easily engaged. --In one case the strategy that the student mentioned didn't match the barrier ("get a peer tutor" when the barrier was "not enough time") and the teacher was unsure whether they should accept that strategy or push for a more related strategy. In the other 2 cases the teacher had to come up with an example of strategies because the student said "I don't know." --Teachers often forgot to record the time that the conversations started and ended (Additional notes on the data-collection sheet).
Questions: Questions you have about what will happen. What do you want to learn? 1. How long will each conversation take? 2. How many students will be able to come up with barriers? How many of the barriers will not be under the students' control? 3. How many will be able to come up with plausible strategies to overcome the barriers? 4. How natural will the teachers find the conversations?	Predictions: Make a prediction for each question. Not optional. Each conversation will take about 3 minutes All 3 students will be able to come up with a barrier. Only 1 will identify barriers within his/her control. All of the students that come up with a barrier under their control will be able to identify a strategy to address it.	Data: Data you'll collect to test predictions. -Minutes of each conversation take -# of students that identify a barrier (step 2) -# of barriers that are out of the students' control (step 2, mark either in/out of student's control) -# of in-control barriers with a strategy (step 3 of the protocol) -# of "4s and 4s" of teacher ratings of "awkwardness of the conversation" (collected in huddle)	What were your results? Comment on your predictions in the boxes below. Were they correct? Record any data summaries as well. One conversation lasted 2 min. The other two teachers forgot to record the time. 0/3 students identified a SPECIFIC barrier. ALL students mentioned a reason they failed the assessment ("being lazy," "not understanding," "not putting in enough effort") but did not identify a specific obstacle to passing the next time. 3/3 of their reasons for failure were within their control. 2/3 students came up with an appropriate plan for the next step (peer tutoring, rewarding yourself, closing tabs) All 3 teachers rated the conversations as 4 or 5, and noted that the conversations were "remarkably or surprisingly" natural.
4) ACT Describe modifications and/or decisions for the next cycle, what will you do next? Adopt in all 3 classrooms for one week and see if it changes the retake rate.	3) STUDY What did you learn? -Goal-setting conversations were natural and doable in a short amount of time. -Students couldn't identify specific, forward-looking obstacles that were specific. -However, students did come up with pretty good strategies so maybe identifying barriers is not that important.

EXAMPLE DATA-COLLECTION FORM

Goal-Setting and Planning Conversation Protocol and Data-Collection Form

Student Name:	Start Time:
	End Time:
Conversation Protocol:	Notes:
1. Let's talk about your last assessment. You got a score of _____. What do you think would be a reasonable goal for the next time you take the assessment?
2. What stands in the way of you reaching that goal? What is one main barrier?
3. How can you overcome this barrier? What is one specific strategy you can use to overcome this barrier?
4. Summarize your plan for me. What is the barrier and what are you going to do when it occurs?
On a scale of 1-5 with 1 = awkward and 5 = natural, how awkward was the conversation:
Other notes/observations:

By standardizing the PDSA model, we are building a flexible and responsive system for continuous learning and improvement. This initiative gives our educators and PLCs a clear process to drive meaningful gains in student achievement. Through this data-driven approach, to monitor measurable improvements and create an environment of new ideas that prepares our students to be future-ready. We believe this will result in meaningful, positive, and enduring systemic improvements throughout the district.

Personal Electronic Devices */

Student possession or use of a personal electronic device is prohibited from the start of each school day's regular instructional hours until the end of regular instructional hours, except as provided below.

Except as otherwise provided in this policy, "personal electronic device" means any portable, electrically powered device that is capable of making and receiving calls and text messages and accessing the internet independently from the school's network infrastructure. This includes headphones and earbuds that are electronically or physically attached to personal electronic devices. This does not include a district-issued laptop computer or other device required to support academic activities.

Personal electronic devices may be utilized when the usage complies with the terms of:

1. The student's medical provider's order for the care and treatment of a medical condition;¹
2. The student's individualized education program, as defined in ORS 343.035 or an education plan developed for the student in accordance with section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. 794);²
3. A written exemption provided for the student based on a request received in JFCEB-AR. School administration will respond to such a request within ten (10) school days.³

Personal electronic devices may be kept by students in lockers or backpacks, but personal electronic devices are not to be stored on the student's person or in the student's clothing during regular instructional hours.

Students in violation of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action. Discipline for mere possession or use of a personal electronic device may not include loss of instructional time for the student (including suspension or expulsion), but could include detention, after-school detention, a change to storage requirements, etc.⁴ However, if the actions taken by a student violate another conduct policy, the student may be subject to discipline up to and including expulsion.⁵

¹ JFCEB-AR must be submitted to the building administrator, along with a copy of the order.

² If use of the personal electronic device is included in the individualized education program or education plan, JFCEB-AR submission is not required.

³ JFCEB-AR must be submitted to the building administrator.

⁴ Correction may include requiring a student to store their device in a classroom storage space instead of in the backpack.

⁵ For example: a student could be disciplined with lost instructional time for using a personal electronic device to bully another student or for accessing inappropriate content. Discipline will be in accordance with Board policies.

The superintendent or designee shall ensure this policy is posted on the district website and made available to district personnel, students, parents, guardians, partners who are in school buildings during the school day, and the Oregon Department of Education.

In accordance with ORS 336.840, students may be allowed to use personal electronic devices⁶ that support academic activities and independent communications⁷, except as prohibited by this policy. In academic activities in which a personal electronic device is required as part of the curriculum, students may be allowed, but not required to use their own personal electronic devices for that portion of the curriculum. Students using their own device must be granted access to any applications or electronic materials that are available to students who do not use their own personal electronic devices. These applications must be free of charge if students who do not use their own devices have access free of charge.

Requests for exemptions to this policy can be processed in accordance with JFCEB-AR, Request for Personal Electronic Devices Exemption. Appeals can be filed with the superintendent.

The taking, disseminating, transferring, or sharing of obscene, pornographic or otherwise illegal images or photographs, whether by electronic data transfer or otherwise (commonly called texting, sexting, emailing, etc.) may constitute a crime under state and/or federal law. Any person taking, disseminating, transferring or sharing obscene, pornographic or otherwise illegal images or photographs will be reported to law enforcement and/or other appropriate state or federal agencies.

Personal Electronic Devices and Social Media

Students may be allowed to use and possess personal electronic devices on district property and at district-sponsored activities provided such devices are not used in any manner that may disrupt the learning environment or district-sponsored activities, or violate Board policies, administrative regulations, school or classroom rules, state and federal law.⁸

As used in this policy, a “personal electronic device” is a device that is capable of electronically communicating, sending, receiving, storing, recording, reproducing and/or displaying information and data.

If the district implements a curriculum that uses technology, students may be allowed to use their own personal electronic devices to access the curriculum. Students who are allowed to use their own devices to access the curriculum will be granted access to any application or electronic materials when they are available to students who do not use their own devices, or provided free of charge to students who do not use their own devices for curriculum.

Students may not use district equipment to access social media websites unless the access is approved by a district representative. The district will not be liable for personal electronic devices brought onto district property or the information or comments posted by students on social media websites.

Students are subject to disciplinary action up to and including expulsion for using a personal electronic device in any manner that is academically dishonest, illegal or violates the terms of this policy.⁹ A referral to law enforcement officials may also be made. Personal electronic devices brought to district property or used in violation of this policy are subject to confiscation and will be released to the student’s parent or property owner, as appropriate.

The superintendent is directed to develop administrative regulations and/or approve school rules as necessary to ensure that student use of such devices is consistent with this policy. Administrative regulations may include grade- or age-level possession and/or use restrictions by students on district property and at district-sponsored activities, consequences for violations; a process for responding to a student’s request to use a personal electronic device, including an appeal process if the request is denied;

⁸The taking, disseminating, transferring or sharing of obscene, pornographic or otherwise illegal images or photographs, whether by electronic data transfer or otherwise (commonly called texting, sexting, emailing, etc.) may constitute a crime under state and/or federal law. Any person taking, disseminating, transferring or sharing obscene, pornographic or otherwise illegal images or photographs will be reported to law enforcement and/or other appropriate state or federal agencies.

⁹The taking, disseminating, transferring or sharing of obscene, pornographic or otherwise illegal images or photographs, whether by electronic data transfer or otherwise (commonly called texting, sexting, emailing, etc.) may constitute a crime under state and/or federal law. Any person taking, disseminating, transferring or sharing obscene, pornographic, or otherwise illegal images or photographs will be reported to law enforcement and/or other appropriate state or federal agencies.

and such other provisions as the superintendent may deem necessary. The superintendent is responsible for ensuring that pertinent provisions of Board policies, administrative regulations and school rules governing personal electronic devices are included in staff handbooks and student/parent handbooks, reviewed annually and updated as necessary.
