STUDENT SPOTLIGHT - JEFFERSON EARLY CHILDHOOD CENTER

Ms. Rachel Lloyd-Fowler, Principal of Jefferson Early Childhood Center, Ms. Kara Banfield, and Ms. Guinevere Skovronski, Teachers at Jefferson Early Childhood Center presented on the collaborative partnership between Jefferson Elementary School and Junior Achievement (JA) piloting a new JA curriculum tailored for preschool students, building upon existing JA units. The event aimed to enhance communication skills, introduce children to community helpers, and foster a sense of civic responsibility.

The event included various stations where students participated in activities like voting for charities and interacting with simulated community roles like bus drivers and veterinarians. The children enjoyed the hands-on learning experience, particularly the bus driver and pet-related activities.

The initiative has been successful in extending learning beyond the classroom, with students continuing to explore topics like community helpers and animal care through classroom activities. The school plans to continue the program in future years, emphasizing the positive impact on students' executive functioning skills and civic engagement.

Audrey Adamson, Board Member, asked about the preplanning on JA's part in terms of their openingness of modifying for these learners. Ms. Fowler responded that Jefferson staff had a lot of planning time and went down to JA to see what they could bring and use to help modify stations so they were geared towards preschoolers. JA was fantastic to work with.

Laura Sivertsen, Board Member, has 25 years of volunteering and loves seeing JA being kind of repurposed for preschool.

Geoff Manis, Board Member, this is a great example of the district staff going above and beyond and a great opportunity to mold those executive functioning skills that are so important.

A motion was made by Laura Sivertsen, seconded by Jason Farrell, unanimously carried, that the Committee of the Whole meeting be adjourned. Time: 6:17 p.m.
