15. DISCUSSION ITEMS

15.A. Report.

- Mrs. Moretti commended the marching band for performing at the River Valley football event. The students marched from the school school to the event and performed.
- Mrs. Moretti also attended the district's teacher first-day meeting. She noted that approximately 90% of teachers were wearing orange and black which created a strong display of school spirit. The day's activities were well received. She commended the staff who organized the meeting and the interactive activities.
- Mrs. Moretti also discussed the current Pre-K and kindergarten enrollments. The first pre-k class is at capacity of 20 students and the second pre-k class has approximately 15 students. Kindergarten has been reduced from 4 sections to 3 sections because enrollment has been below 60 students. Enrollment has since increased to 68 students. The Board and administration will monitor enrollment and review the data to determine whether another kindergarten section might be warranted.
- Ms. Sarno proposed allowing seniors to paint and decorate their assigned parking spaces. The Board viewed the concept as an opportunity to increase school spirit. This could be done at relatively little expense to the District. The Board agreed that the guidelines and logistics should be investigated before determining whether to implement the program.
- Ms. Sarno also raised the possibility of improving the District's livestreaming and recording capabilities for Board meetings. She noted that several neighboring municipalities and school boards hold meetings on the same evenings making it difficult for community members to attend multiple meetings. The Board discussed whether the project should be handled through technology or administration and agreed that the district should research what other school districts are using to determine feasibility.
- Ms. Sarno also suggested that the Board consider changing the day of the meetings during the December reorganization process.

4. PRESENTATIONS

- Mr. Zaenger reported that two projects were essentially complete, although the lobby project still had a few outstanding items. Two contractors had been paid in full and the project was at the stage of final completion. The remaining contractor was expected to submit a final pay application. The general contractor also had several remaining assignments to complete. Overall, the lobby project was considered substantially complete.
- Mr. Zaenger also reported that the masonry project had undergone several punch-list reviews the previous week. Mr. Leviski, Mr. Zangrille, and Mr. Zaenger reviewed the remaining work. Contractors still had several items to complete, including remaining masonry work and installation of metal coping on the roof. The roofing contractor had been in communication with the foreman and might return to the site shortly. The masonry contractor expected to complete his work during the current week. Mr. Zaenger planned to inspect and sign off on the masonry work once completed, followed by a final inspection of the metal work. Two pay applications had been submitted, including electrical and masonry work. The contract contained allowances because the extent of masonry conditions could not be known until the existing masonry was removed. Conditions were found to be better than anticipated. As a result, the project was expected to receive approximately a $61,000 credit associated with unused allowances. Mr. Zaenger indicated that there were no other significant issues with the two projects.

- Mr. Canzian provided an update on the Acme sidewalk project. The project was approximately 70% complete and construction was progressing quickly and efficiently. Despite unfavorable weather, the work was reported to be of good quality. The contractor was working aggressively to complete the concrete work before the start of school. The contractor had been working extended schedules, including approximately five 10-hour days per week and some Saturdays. A significant concern was the availability of the permanent handrails. The handrails have a long lead time and were not expected to be installed by the start of school, even if the concrete work was completed on schedule. Several options for student and parent access were discussed. One option was to use an alternate entrance until the permanent handrails were installed. Another option was to obtain a price from the contractor for temporary handrails on the ramp. The preliminary preference was to:
 - Install temporary handrails on the ramp.
 - Close the stairs until permanent railings were available.
 - Allow arrival through the ramp entrance.

Temporary railing options could include prefabricated systems or wood construction. Concern was expressed about attaching temporary wood railings directly to the newly constructed concrete. Mr. Canzian planned to discuss the available temporary railing options with the contractor.

- Administration had been working on an alternate entrance plan in anticipation of the permanent handrails not being available at the beginning of the school year. Mr. Leviski and Mr. Heavner were working through the logistics. The district had already discussed alternative access to the elementary school. The administration was prepared to use an alternate access plan if the handrails were not available. It was suggested that the alternate arrangement could be used rather than immediately committing to a temporary railing change order, depending on the district's preference.
- The board asked whether bus drop-off locations would change. The buses were expected to continue using the same general drop-off area as in the prior year, although the timing/order of drop-offs could change slightly. Administration was working to minimize the amount of time that buses and parent vehicles would occupy the same areas. Once the new area was open and usable, administration would evaluate whether buses could potentially be routed around the front. Depending on construction progress, there could be a period when the drop-off circle was open but pedestrians would still need to navigate around unfinished areas. The district had arranged for school police officers at the elementary school to assist with arrival and dismissal. Mr. Leviski and Mr. Heavner were also expected to be present. Additional administrators and staff, including Mrs. Noel, if available, were expected to assist.
- The board discussed encouraging families to use district transportation during the construction period. It was noted that school buses operate regardless of whether they are fully occupied, making bus transportation a potentially useful way to reduce congestion during arrival. Administration indicated that the district's welcome-back newsletter had previously included information regarding the status of the stairs and anticipated access arrangements.
- Mr. Canzian also presented 3 change orders:

Change Order No. 1 — Excavation and Asphalt

- Additional excavation and full-depth asphalt paving were required. The original plans called for approximately 1½ inches of overlay in a particular area. Existing grades did not provide the necessary conditions for the required maximum curb configuration.

Change Order No. 2 — Manholes

- Two manholes located in the middle of the former driveway were discussed. The manholes had previously been encased in concrete and were frequently struck by maintenance plows. The change order would raise the manholes approximately 2½ inches to provide a flush and smoother transition.

Change Order No. 3 — Sidewalk Restoration

- The third change order involved repairing sidewalks that had been removed during the stormwater replacement project.
- The board asked about the availability of the entire lower parking lot because new teachers were expected to arrive the following day. Some teachers were still using the very front portion of the lot. It was clarified that this was because the concrete work in that area had not yet been completed. Completion of that portion was dependent on approval of Change Order No. 1. The board discussed the possibility of adjusting the concrete to match the existing cross slope if the change order was not approved, although that slope would be somewhat steeper than technically permitted.
- ADA Parking Project – The project is at the PennDOT review stage for its first round of review. Design work has been completed for the upper lot near the auditorium. The upper lot work had implications for conservation district approval because it increased the overall disturbed area of the project. The district hoped to have both lots ready for bidding by the end of February. PennDOT would not be involved with the additional lot near the auditorium. Conservation district review was required because the additional work increased the disturbed area associated with the overall project.
- Dr. Graczyk announced the upcoming Ready, Set, Go technology night, scheduled for the 18th. Mr. Maine provided additional details regarding the event. The district, Dynamo Education Foundation, and the Alumni Association are sponsoring Kona Ice for attendees. Posters and promotional materials for the event were placed around the building. Parents are strongly encouraged to attend in order to get student devices distributed and ready for use.
- Dr. Graczyk provided an update on Pre-K enrollment. There are currently 12 students in the registration process for the new classroom. This number includes incomplete, partially complete, and complete registrations. He expressed appreciation to Dr. Holler and the new school social worker, ms. Bucaro, for making home visits to assist parents with enrollment.
- This was the first year that state assessments were mandated to be administered online. Administration noted that Allegheny Valley students were performing well on the district's benchmark assessments. However, state assessment results were not performing at the level predicted by the local benchmark data. Respondents identified several possible factors contributing to lower ELA performance, including:
 - Students' familiarity with digital testing.
 - Reading stamina when reading on screens.
 - Performance on constructed-response questions.

- The overall transition to online assessment.
- Administration emphasized that these were preliminary observations and that additional information was still needed.
- Ms. Gibbon, Ms. Vecchio, and others played an important role in obtaining and analyzing the preliminary assessment data.
- The district plans to provide the board and the public with additional information once the data is more complete and formally available.
- A more comprehensive presentation of the results is expected after the district receives the finalized information.
- Administration announced that the district's new teachers would begin the following day.
- This was described as potentially the district's largest incoming group of teachers in at least 13 years, and possibly longer.
- All staff members were scheduled to report on the 14th.
- Board members were invited to attend the morning breakfast and opening ceremonies.
- After the morning activities, teachers would participate in professional learning sessions.
- Students were scheduled to return on the 20th.
- Dr. Graczyk reported that Great Schools PA selected an Allegheny Valley School District story for publication. The story highlighted 8th grade student participating in Junior Achievement Day, connecting classroom instruction with real-world business and career skills

8.A. Report.

- Ms. Sarno reported that the Education Committee met on August 5. They reviewed preliminary assessment data and noted gains in Math 8 and Algebra. They recognized the work of teachers, math interventionists, and administrators. The committee also discussed the district's reading program and continued emphasis on early intervention. She also reported that teachers have completed a substantial number of curriculum maps during the summer. Remaining maps will be completed during the school year. The committee also reviewed research concerning the importance of school libraries and full-time librarians. The district currently has one full-time librarian who splits time between both buildings. This limits regular library access, instruction, resources, and collaboration with teachers. The committee recommended that administration explore the feasibility of hiring a second full-time librarian so that each building could have dedicated full-time library staffing. The committee also discussed later secondary start times and recommended that administration look into this topic as well. The next committee meeting is scheduled for September 2.
