I'm excited to say we have made it through August.

I have learned a lot about the school service industry and excited to see what we can do and bring to the table in September.

We are still hiring great people. I'm working close with each employee so we can position the correct employees at the right school so we may become stronger together.

September has it own challenges with food shortages as well as truck driver shortages. I want to thank everyone for their understanding and encouragement during this time.
