3. REPORTS

3.1. 2026-2027 Budget Message

Presenter: Daymond Monteith, Executive Director of Operations

Daymond delivered Dr. Brown's budget message:

The development of the 2026–2027 budget reflects both the challenges and the commitments that define Klamath Falls City Schools. As we look ahead, we continue to navigate a financial landscape shaped by declining student enrollment, rising personnel costs, aging facilities, and uncertainty in federal education funding.

Enrollment trends remain a central factor in our budgeting process. Continued declines directly impact state funding, requiring us to make careful, strategic decisions to align resources with student needs while preserving the quality of our programs. In addition, the current application of the Oregon Department of Education's poverty metrics has resulted in a reduction in funding weights for the district, further tightening available resources.

At the same time, the district is experiencing increased financial pressure from growing Public Employees Retirement System (PERS) obligations, as well as rising costs associated with employee wages and benefits. We remain committed to honoring our staff by providing competitive compensation, recognizing that our educators and support personnel are the foundation of student success.

In addition to operational pressures, the district faces significant and ongoing facility needs. Four of our elementary schools are at or approaching a century in age, and our middle school campus is nearing the end of its functional lifespan. These aging facilities present increasing maintenance costs, operational inefficiencies, and challenges in providing modern learning environments that meet the needs of today's students. The district has completed comprehensive facility planning and has a clear understanding of its long-term infrastructure needs. In the coming years, we will engage our community in conversations about potential bond measures and other strategies to ensure our schools can support modern, high-quality learning environments.

Minutes of Budget Message and Proposed Budget Meeting

Klamath Falls City Schools

Board of Education

Despite these pressures, our focus remains unchanged. Klamath Falls City Schools is dedicated to providing a world-class educational experience for every student. We are equally committed to ensuring that all students learn in environments that are safe, healthy, and supportive. Guided by our strategic priorities, we remain focused on improving outcomes for all students, including increasing graduation rates and ensuring every student is prepared for success beyond high school.

This budget reflects a balance between fiscal responsibility and our unwavering mission to serve students. Through thoughtful planning and continued community support, we will sustain the programs and opportunities that prepare our students for success in school and beyond while also addressing the critical facility needs that will shape the future of our district. We are committed to doing this work in a manner that is financially sustainable, ensuring that the district remains stable, resilient, and well-positioned to meet the needs of both current and future students.

Dr. Keith Brown-Superintendent

3.2. Proposed 2026-2027 Budget

Presenter: Daymond Monteith, Executive Director of Operations

Budget Presentation Overview

The Superintendent/Presenter opened by recognizing Charity VanWinkle and team for their extensive work preparing the proposed budget.

Budget Framework & Priorities

- The budget is aligned to the Board's five strategic priorities, serving as the "north star" for decision-making.
- Total budget: approximately $77 million
 - General Fund: ~$44 million (57%) – primary operational fund
 - Special Revenue Funds: ~43% – restricted funds (grants, federal/state programs)

Revenue Overview

 - Payroll (~7%)
 - Health insurance (~3.5%)
 - Property/liability insurance (~15%)
 - Fuel (uncertain increases)

Enrollment Trends & Impact

- Continued declining enrollment over the past 15 years.

- Capital Improvements (aging facilities)
- Contingency Fund: $2 million (aligned with 5% policy target)

Additional breakdown:

- Largest costs: salaries, benefits, retirement (PERS), and support staff
- Substitute services represent most purchased services

Staffing & Class Sizes

- Reduction of 6 FTE teaching positions:
 - 5 elementary
 - 1 high school
- Reductions achieved primarily through attrition (retirements/resignations)

Projected Class Sizes:

- Elementary: ~21:1
- Middle School: ~25:1
- High School: similar trend

Despite reductions, class sizes remain favorable due to declining enrollment.

Student Programming Highlights

The district continues to provide robust programming, including:

Danielle Covey (in person)- 218 Hillside Ave, Klamath Falls, Oregon, 97601

I am deeply concerned about the overall mental health needs within the district and the growing lack of consistent implementation of a comprehensive school counseling and mental health support program being implemented next year for K-5 students. As student social-emotional and mental health needs continue to increase, I believe it is critical that districts prologize accessible, relationship-base support systems within schools, especially in high-needs communities.

Comprehensive counseling and mental health supports are essential in districts serving high-poverty communities because many students are coming to school carrying far more than academic stress. Students are often navigating trauma, homelessness, food insecurity, abuse, addiction within the home, grief, anxiety, and chronic instability. Those experiences directly affect emotional regulation, relations, behavior, and the ability to learn. For many children, school becomes the one consistent and safe environment they can rely on each day.

IN communities with significant social and economic challenges, outside counseling services are not always realistic or accessible for families. Transportation, finances, work schedules, long waitlists, and lack of trust in outside systems can all become barriers to receiving help. Because of this, schools play a critical role in providing access, relationship-based mental health support where students already feel comfortable and connected.

One of the biggest concerns is the idea that three CDSs could effectively cover five different schools. Relationship-building is the foundation of effective mental health and SEL support, and meaningful relationships cannot realistically be built when support is spread that thin. Students need consistency, trust, predictability, and regular access to trusted adults in order to feel safe enough to seek support.

This also feels inconsistent with the relationship-centered philosophy behind Capturing Kids' Hearts, which emphasizes connection, belonging and relationships as critical to student success. IN high-needs school especially, full-time counseling CDS mental health supports is not extra-it is essential.

Daisy Culp (via Zoom)- 123 High St, Klamath Falls, Or, 97601

I'd like to request a parent/community information town hall where the new education model for parents and community can ask questions before adoption.

Questions I'd like addressed at the board meeting:

How does this model allow for teacher/ students to build relationships. It seems to be reading scripts and testing throughout the day. How is this an effective model.

How long will students be left in the detention room?

How will you separate possible sped students behaviors from Others. Will this model follow a students IEP?

How are teachers allowed to use creativity, best practices. And their own knowledge in education.

What is the research on this model?

Have you read the criticism on this model and the Houston superintendent who founded it?

Thanks for your time!

Graduation ceremonies have already begun at colleges and universities, and our high schools are preparing to celebrate the accomplishments of their graduating seniors. At the same time, students in our elementary and middle schools are wrapping up another successful school year and preparing to move on to the next grade level.

I would like to invite our community to attend and support our upcoming high school graduation ceremonies:

- Klamath Union High School Graduation – Sunday, June 7, at 12:00 p.m. (Noon) at Modoc Field

We hope everyone will come out and celebrate these students and their achievements. Graduation represents years of hard work and dedication, and it is made possible through the collective efforts of students, parents, teachers, support staff, administrators, and our entire school community from kindergarten through twelfth grade.

As our graduates move on to college, careers, military service, and other opportunities, we are proud of all they have accomplished and look forward to seeing the positive impact they will make in the future. We are especially encouraged when graduates return to Klamath Falls and choose to contribute to our community, including teaching and working in our schools.

3.3. School Improvement Report

Presenter: Fred Bartels, Executive Director of School Improvement and Elementary Report Card Revision Committee Members: Angie Marin, Scott Olsen, Emily Smith, and Lauren Petersen

Mr. Bartels introduced a representative group from the Elementary Report Card Revision Committee and highlighted the extensive work completed over the past year to redesign the district's elementary report cards. The committee consisted of 25 members, including:

- 8 teachers
- 6 instructional coaches
- 4 building administrators
- 1 district administrator
- 6 parents

The committee was intentionally structured to ensure broad representation and meaningful family input throughout the process.

Purpose of the Report Card Revision

The committee identified several concerns with the existing elementary report card, including:

- Overly complex and difficult-to-read formatting
- Inconsistent language across grade levels
- Lack of clarity for families regarding student progress
- Limited consistency in grading practices across schools

Minutes of Regular and Executive Board Meeting

Klamath Falls City Schools

Board of Education

The revision process focused on creating a report card that would better communicate student progress to families while ensuring consistency throughout the district.

Key Improvements

Committee members outlined several enhancements included in the new report card:

- Clearer, parent-friendly language written at approximately a sixth-grade reading level
- Consistent reporting categories and terminology across all elementary grade levels
- Improved visual design with larger fonts, better use of white space, and clearer organization
- Alignment of grading expectations across classrooms and schools
- Standardized rubrics and assessments to support consistent reporting
- Required teacher comments each reporting period to provide individualized feedback to families

Family Engagement

Parents played an active role throughout the revision process.

Committee members reported that:

- Families were surveyed regarding strengths and weaknesses of the current report card.
- Parents provided input on grading practices and reporting methods.
- Family feedback significantly influenced final decisions, particularly regarding how student progress would be reported.

Parent representatives expressed appreciation for being included in the process and stated that the new report card is easier to understand and more meaningful for families.

Technology Enhancements

The new report card will incorporate several automated features through the district's student information system, including:

- Automatic attendance reporting
- Automatic identification of students with IEPs
- Automatic identification of students receiving English Language Development (ELD) services
- Display of English language proficiency information only when applicable

These improvements reduce manual data entry and increase accuracy.

Minutes of Regular and Executive Board Meeting Klamath Falls City Schools Board of Education

Shift to Point-in-Time Reporting

Committee members explained that one of the most significant changes is the move to a point-in-time reporting model.

Previously, grades reflected progress toward end-of-year standards, which often resulted in students appearing to be "nearly meeting" standards even when they were progressing appropriately.

Under the new system:

- Grades reflect student performance at the current point in the school year.
- Parents can more clearly understand whether their child is on track at that specific time.
- Students who are performing above expectations may exceed grade-level expectations.

Survey feedback indicated that parents strongly preferred this approach.

Board Discussion

Board members praised the committee's work and noted that the revised report card is significantly easier to read and understand.

Discussion included:

- Appreciation for replacing terminology such as "Does Not Meet" and "Nearly Meets," which some families found discouraging for students.
- Support for the addition of required teacher comments.
- Questions regarding alignment between report card ratings and state assessments.
- Clarification that students who meet standards on the report card should generally be expected to meet standards on state assessments.
- Questions about how teachers determine proficiency ratings and the process used to identify essential standards.

3.4. Monthly Financials

Presenter: Daymond Monteith, Executive Director of Operations

Minutes of Regular and Executive Board Meeting

Klamath Falls City Schools

Board of Education

Mr. Monteith presented the monthly financial report and noted that there were no significant concerns or unexpected developments to report.

Key highlights included:

- The district is approximately 85% through the current budget year.
- Revenue collections are tracking as anticipated and remain consistent with budget projections.
- Expenditures are also trending in line with expectations.

Mr. Monteith noted one exception within the expenditure categories:

- Salary expenditures are currently trending slightly above budget projections.
- This increase was anticipated due to recently negotiated collective bargaining agreements that included favorable salary adjustments for employees.

Looking ahead, Mr. Monteith reported that:

- One remaining State School Fund payment is expected before the end of the fiscal year.
- Three to four payroll cycles remain before closing out the current budget year.
- The district will soon begin work on the next fiscal year's budget, with a Budget Committee meeting scheduled for Wednesday.

Board Discussion

A board member inquired about the projected ending fund balance, noting that it appeared to be approximately half of the beginning fund balance.

Mr. Monteith explained that the projected ending balance includes approximately $2 million in forecasted transfers to the district's capital reserve and contingency funds. He indicated that those funds are not expected to be spent, meaning the district's actual ending fund balance will be approximately $2 million higher than reflected in the projection and comparable to the prior year's ending balance.

No additional questions were raised. The Board thanked Mr. Monteith for the report.

4.1. Proposal of new elementary charter school

Presenter: Caleb Adkisson

Mr. Adkisson introduced the proposed Meadowlark School, a Waldorf-inspired public charter school intended to provide an alternative educational option for families in the Klamath Falls community.

Minutes of Regular and Executive Board Meeting Klamath Falls City Schools Board of Education

School Vision and Purpose

Mr. Adkisson shared that he is a lifelong resident of the Klamath Basin who has spent the past several years living and working between the United States and Germany. Drawing from his family's positive experiences with Waldorf-inspired education, he expressed a desire to bring a similar educational opportunity to Klamath Falls.

The proposed school would focus on:

- Holistic education that develops the "head, heart, and hands" of students.
- Nature-based and experiential learning opportunities.
- Serving students from diverse economic backgrounds through a publicly funded charter school model.
- Providing families with an additional educational choice within the community.

Mr. Adkisson emphasized that the goal is not to compete with existing schools, but rather to offer an alternative educational approach for families seeking a different fit for their children.

Enrollment and Growth Plans

The proposal currently envisions:

- Opening with approximately Kindergarten through 3rd Grade students.
- Multi-age classroom configurations, potentially combining kindergarten and first grade, and second and third grade.
- Beginning as a small school located on Pacific Terrace.
- Expanding gradually based on enrollment demand.

Long-term plans include:

- Purchasing property and developing a dedicated farm school campus.
- Expanding grade levels over time.
- Ultimately growing into a K–12 educational program.

Mr. Adkisson noted that if enrollment demand exceeds available space, a lottery process would be used in accordance with charter school requirements.

Funding Model

Mr. Adkisson explained that the school is seeking charter status to ensure accessibility for all families regardless of income.

Funding would include:

- Public per-student funding available to charter schools.
- Grant funding already secured to support staffing during the first year.
- Additional fundraising efforts to supplement operations and future growth.

Proposed Calendar

The proposal includes consideration of:

- A four-day instructional week (Monday through Thursday).

Minutes of Regular and Executive Board Meeting

Klamath Falls City Schools

Board of Education

- Optional Friday programming to support families needing additional childcare or enrichment opportunities.

Mr. Adkisson noted that details regarding the calendar remain under development and would be refined through the charter approval process.

Staffing

The school plans to meet all state requirements regarding educator qualifications.

Mr. Adkisson stated that Oregon charter school regulations require a portion of teaching staff to hold appropriate licensure and credentials, and the school intends to comply with all applicable requirements.

Board Discussion

Board members expressed appreciation for the proposal and asked questions regarding:

- Anticipated enrollment demand and community interest.
- Plans for future growth and facility development.
- Funding mechanisms for charter schools.

Mr. Adkisson explained that community interest has been generated through public presentations and outreach efforts and that several homeschooling families have already expressed interest in enrolling.

Discussion also included the potential for charter schools to complement existing public schools by providing additional educational options for families.

Next Steps

Board members clarified that no action was being taken on the proposal at this meeting. The charter school application will continue through the review process, and district leadership will further examine the district's role and responsibilities regarding charter school authorization.

Mr. Adkisson expressed his desire to work collaboratively with the district throughout the process and thanked the Board for its consideration and feedback.

Presenter: Daymond Monteith, Executive Director of Operations

The Board considered the second reading of the Oregon School Boards Association (OSBA) policy revisions for Section G – Personnel.

Mr. Monteith explained that Section G contains the district's personnel policies and serves as an important guide when addressing employee-related matters. He noted that the policies had been reviewed through the district's policy committee in collaboration with OSBA legal and policy staff.

Mr. Monteith further reported that since the Board's first reading, OSBA had issued five additional revisions to the proposed policies due to recent statutory and legislative changes. He recommended replacing the previously proposed versions of those policies with the updated versions included in the Board packet. 6. BOARD MEMBER COMMENTS

Presenters: 2025-2026 Board Members

Board Member Comments – Kathy Hewitt

Board Member Kathy Hewitt clarified comments she had made earlier regarding feedback received from staff about the New Education System implementation. She noted that while she had not independently verified every concern that was shared with her, she had listened carefully to staff members and felt that many were expressing genuine concern and uncertainty about the proposed changes.

Ms. Hewitt emphasized the importance of ongoing communication throughout the implementation process and encouraged district leadership to continue providing timely information and opportunities for staff input.

She also highlighted concerns that had been raised regarding the importance of strong adult-student relationships within schools. Staff members expressed concern that changes in support structures could impact those relationships, particularly for students who may not have consistent positive adult connections outside of school. Ms. Hewitt noted that, during her visit to observe the New Education System model in operation, she witnessed numerous positive interactions between adults and students and expressed hope that similar relationships would continue to be fostered within Klamath Falls City Schools.

Ms. Hewitt also took the opportunity to recognize Dan Stearns for his work securing grant funding for the district. She acknowledged the significant effort involved in researching, writing, and managing grant applications and commended Mr. Stearns for his success in obtaining funding that benefits students and district programs.

Ms. Hewitt concluded by expressing her appreciation for the hard work and dedication of district staff and those involved in supporting student success.

Board Member Comments – Kelsey Bitzer

Board Member Kelsey Bitzer commented on her observations from visiting schools implementing the New Education System (NES) model. She noted that one of the key elements of the model's success was the high level of involvement and visibility from leadership at all levels, including district administrators, cabinet members, school leaders, and governing boards.

Ms. Bitzer shared that during the site visits, there was a strong emphasis on collective accountability, with all adults in the system being held to consistent expectations and actively supporting classroom teachers and students.

She expressed her belief that successful implementation of the New Education System in Klamath Falls will require continued engagement and visibility from district leadership and Board members. Ms. Bitzer indicated that Board members intend to be present in schools regularly throughout the implementation process to observe progress, support staff, and remain connected to the work occurring in classrooms.

Ms. Bitzer concluded by stating that maintaining a visible and supportive leadership presence is an important component of raising expectations and improving student outcomes across the district.

Board Member Comments – Vanessa Bennett

Board Member Vanessa Bennett began by recognizing the accomplishments of the Eagle Ridge New Tech High School FFA program. She praised the students for their many achievements and expressed appreciation for the student presentations and the recognition given to individual team members. Ms. Bennett noted the importance of acknowledging students by name and celebrating the hard work and success of all participants.

Ms. Bennett also commended the committee responsible for developing the district's new elementary report card, stating that the revised report card will provide clearer and more meaningful information for families.

Regarding the adoption of the New Education System (NES), Ms. Bennett emphasized that while change is necessary, it is also important to recognize and value the positive work already taking place throughout the district. She acknowledged the many dedicated teachers, instructional coaches, and staff members who have worked diligently to improve student outcomes and implement new initiatives over the past several years.

Minutes of Regular and Executive Board Meeting

Klamath Falls City Schools

Board of Education

Ms. Bennett stated that she agrees the district must continue pursuing improvements to ensure students do not fall through the cracks and that higher levels of achievement are reached. However, she cautioned against minimizing the significant efforts and progress already made by educators across the district.

She also acknowledged that the implementation of the New Education System is creating uncertainty and concern for many stakeholders, including teachers, parents, administrators, Board members, and district leadership. She stressed the importance of recognizing those concerns and ensuring that all parties feel supported throughout the transition process.

Ms. Bennett emphasized several priorities moving forward:

- Maintaining clear, accurate, and accessible communication with families and staff.
- Ensuring parents know where to find reliable information and opportunities to ask questions.
- Continuing to listen to and support teachers throughout the implementation process.
- Avoiding the loss of valued staff members due to uncertainty or lack of communication.
- Ensuring that educators feel heard and respected as the district moves forward with change.

Ms. Bennett concluded by expressing optimism about the potential of the New Education System and her hope that it will lead to positive outcomes for students. She stated that raising expectations and improving student achievement will require the support and involvement of everyone in the district and community, and emphasized the importance of bringing all stakeholders along in the process.

7. CLOSING COMMENTS FROM BOARD CHAIR

Presenter: Andrew Biggs, Board Chair

Board Chair Andrew Biggs reflected on the number of initiatives and improvements discussed throughout the meeting and noted that the district is currently engaged in significant work across multiple areas.

Mr. Biggs observed that the Board has recently considered a variety of changes and improvements, including instructional initiatives, report card revisions, and the implementation of the New Education System. He acknowledged that while these efforts are aimed at improving outcomes for students, they also represent substantial change for the employees responsible for carrying out the work.

He emphasized the importance of recognizing the perspective of teachers, staff, and administrators who must implement these changes on a daily basis. Mr. Biggs noted that while progress is encouraging, the pace and volume of change can feel overwhelming for those directly affected, and he expressed appreciation for the concerns raised regarding communication, support, and implementation.

Minutes of Regular and Executive Board Meeting Klamath Falls City Schools Board of Education

Presenter: Andrew Biggs, Board Chair

At the conclusion of regular business, the board moved into Executive Session at 8:11 PM pursuant to ORS 192.660(2)(b) To consider the dismissal or disciplining of, or to hear complaints or charges brought against, a public officer, employee, staff member or individual agent who does not request an open hearing. 9. EXECUTIVE SESSION

Presenter: Andrew Biggs, Board Chair

9.1. Grievance Procedure Discussion

Presenter: Renee Clark, Director of Human Resources

The Board convened in Executive Session to discuss two pending grievance matters.

District administration informed the Board that an administrative error had occurred regarding the required notification process. Individuals involved in the grievances had not received the required written notice within the timeline established by the applicable procedures. As a result, the parties were not properly prepared to present their cases at the meeting.

Administration recommended postponing consideration of both grievances and scheduling a future special board meeting to hear the matters.

Minutes of Regular and Executive Board Meeting

Klamath Falls City Schools

Board of Education

Board members received an overview of recent changes to the grievance procedures under the applicable collective bargaining agreement. Administration explained that parties now have the right to present evidence and arguments directly to the Board for up to ten minutes each during grievance hearings. The Board discussed procedural options for handling future hearings, including whether parties should present separately or together during Board-level grievance proceedings.

Discussion included:

- The advantages and disadvantages of separate versus joint presentations.
- The potential impact of each approach on workplace relationships.
- Consistency with past Board practices.
- Opportunities for Board members to ask follow-up questions of either party.
- The distinction between the two pending grievances, including one disciplinary matter that could be appealed beyond the Board level and one policy-related grievance for which the Board serves as the final level of review.

Board members generally expressed a preference for maintaining the district's past practice of hearing parties separately during grievance presentations.

No testimony was taken, and no evidence was presented regarding the substance of either grievance due to the notice issue.

The Executive Session concluded with the understanding that both grievances would be scheduled for consideration at a future meeting after proper notice requirements had been satisfied.

Upon returning to open session, the Board Chair announced that no grievance hearings had been conducted and that no decisions would be rendered on either matter during the meeting. The grievances will be considered at a future date.

February 20, 2026

Dear Klamath Falls City Schools Board of Education,

This letter proposes the addition of a policy against hate language to the KFCS Code of Conduct and the KU Student/Parent Handbook for the following reasons:

- All students, regardless of race, nationality, gender, sexual orientation, or identity should feel safe in Klamath Falls City Schools
- The burden for accountability should not fall on the victims of hate language, but should be the responsibility of staff and administration.
- Hate language has become so normalized that students are afraid to report incidents
- Anti-racist education should include discussions of bias and micro-aggressions, as well as specific lessons on hate language

The policies mentioning language are as follows:

KU Student/Parent Handbook

Behavior Matrix (page 43):

(Inappropriate Peer Interaction) “Uses inappropriate language with peer” - Level 2:

Behaviors that are handled by the classroom teacher or other non-administrative school staff with required minor discipline referral) “Inappropriate offensive language”

Level 3: Behaviors that are handled by the building administration with required MAJOR incident referral (page 45)

“Persistent level 1 and 2 behaviors not resolved through documented teacher intervention: ○ Inappropriate offensive language”

Swearing/Vulgar Language (page 48)

“Swearing and/or vulgar language should not be used at school and will not be allowed. It is unnecessary, offensive to many, and may create a hostile environment for students, parents and staff. Students who are swearing and/or using vulgar language on school grounds may be subject to appropriate disciplinary actions. Refer to Board Policy JFC.”

Appropriate Learning Environment (page 54):

Abusive/Profane Language: Writing or saying anything that ridicules or humiliates another person on account of age, color, creed, disability, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sex, or sexual orientation. (1st offence level 1-2, persistent level 3-4)

The KFCS Code of Conduct does not include any specifics for “hate language” or other discriminatory language. The KU Student/parent Handbook offers a vague reference to language that “ridicules or humiliates”, but the first offense is a warning/conversation with the teacher.

However, as per the KFCS Board Resolution #20-04, “the district commits to continuing to require schools to track and report racist incidents in our schools” and “the Klamath Falls City Schools....recognize that the district has not done enough to combat racism or proactively teach antiracism, and as a result, our students of color, still regularly experience racism in our schools”.

The Klamath Union High School Black Student Union, with the support of students and staff at KU, proposes the following are added to KFCS Code of Conduct and The KU Student/Parent Handbook:

1. Define “hate language” as “any form of communication—speech, writing, or behavior—that attacks, threatens, insults, or degrades a group or individual based on attributes like race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or disability” (as defined by The United Nations)
2. Add specific disciplinary actions to the behavior matrix by moving “hate language” violations to level 3-4. Suggested responses are:
 - a. Immediate response by teacher/staff (verbal reprimand/correction)
 - b. Behavior referral (major)
 - c. Suspension (possible ISS)
 - d. Education (meeting with parent and admin)
 - e. Essay assignment researching the origins of language used (to be completed in ISS)
3. Annual training for all staff

Thank you for your consideration,

William Webb

Adoption of new Middle School Health curriculum

Klamath Falls City Schools Invites Families and Community Members to Review Proposed Middle School Health Materials

Klamath Falls City Schools is inviting families and community members to review Human Kinetics Middle School Health instructional materials currently being considered for adoption.

In alignment with board policy, the district is providing an opportunity for the public to view the proposed materials, ask questions, and share comments before any formal adoption decision is made by the Klamath Falls City Schools Board.

The proposed materials were reviewed through a thoughtful selection process. A committee of teachers, administrators, and parents developed a rubric to evaluate available options based on student and community needs. The committee then used that rubric to review and compare materials. All options considered met Oregon requirements, and the Human Kinetics materials were piloted with a small group of students. Following this process, the committee unanimously selected Human Kinetics as the recommended Middle School Health materials.

KFCS Curriculum Adoption Recommendations

Board Action Item: The Klamath Falls City Schools administration recommends the KFCS Board of Directors approve the following curriculum adoption material:

Content and Grade	Materials Recommended	Term of adoption
6th-8th Grade Health Adoption	Human Kinetics	Seven years Fall 2026-Spring 2033

The following adoption process was used to make this recommendation to the board:

1. With school staff, determine which parent/community members should be included on the committee
2. Determine selection criteria: create rubric/checklist with school staff, parents, and community members
3. Select Sample Materials with school staff, parents, and community members
4. School staff evaluates samples using the rubric/checklist to determine which materials best meet the criteria set out by the committee. School staff reviews materials, tries sample lessons in the classroom, and gets student input.
5. School staff presents selection to full committee, explaining why they were selected over other materials
6. Materials available for public viewing and public comment
7. Selection presented to the Board of Education for approval

This process aligns with board policy IIA, IIA-AR
