Score was founded by former U.S. Senate Majority Leader Bill Frist to promote educational change in Tennessee through collaboration of stakeholders in education. The organization recently released an overview, "State of Education in Tennessee" (www.tennesseescore.org), that outlines strengths and weaknesses of K-12 education system in Tennessee. The task force did not stop there but continued to study what was working in educational communities across the state. The task force, under the leadership of Brad Smith, has developed recommendations based on the strengths to improve the weaknesses of our state educational system. Superintendents across the state have had input in to the final recommendations. Mr. Smith presented an overview at our Fall District meeting.

Attached is a copy of the entire document. I am asking that you take a few minutes to study the recommendations and make any suggestions you have to improve the document. I would like to send a letter of support for these recommendations to the SCORE Task Force representing Cumberland County Board of Education.

Thank you.
