- Predefined geographic areas, such as a service footprint
- Segments, such as highways or pipelines
- Moving assets, where the warning follows the phone or other mobile device wherever it is carried by crews in the field

/ How You Benefit

Only AccuWeather's SkyGuard warnings provide you with additional features to ensure protection against severe weather emergencies. With SkyGuard warnings, you will:

- Receive pinpoint alerts for specific locations, unlike the NWS, which issues general public warnings covering large areas

Distribution Methods

/ Online

AccuWeather provides rapid access to all SkyGuard warnings and information through an interactive, web-based interface that can be accessed by key personnel throughout your enterprise, providing a company-wide common operating picture and better situational awareness. That means your organization will be better prepared to understand how weather will impact you, ensuring safety and continuity in a timely manner, while also containing costs.

/ Mobile Devices

When seconds count in severe weather, AccuWeather ensures a swift response by delivering site-specific severe weather warnings directly into the hands of the end user along with quick and direct access to their organization's standard operating procedures for that type of weather emergency. Warnings are created and issued by AccuWeather's own meteorologists, who monitor your locations and assets 24x7, 365 days a year, whether you are in the office, at a job site, or traveling across the country.

Mobile capability allows you to confirm receipt of SkyGuard Warnings from your mobile device. If no one acknowledges a warning within two minutes after issuance, then a SkyGuard meteorologist calls your main point of contact to confirm the warning has been received and understood – an extra precaution available only through AccuWeather.

/ Data

All of our pinpoint weather content is converted into a wide variety of GIS-friendly formats in real time – as observations are collected, value-added data are assimilated, proactive warnings are issued, and informative forecasts are created. This provides you with the ability to ingest weather content into your own models, workflows, and analytics.

We then deliver this GIS content to you for seamless integration into your interactive maps, operational workflows, analysis pipelines, and situational awareness tools. This creates a perfect storm of real-time, actionable, site-specific AccuWeather content and the data about your business that matters to you.
