VII. SUPERINTENDENT'S 2021-22 EVALUATION (7:35 p.m.)*

Corvallis School District Board of Directors
Evaluation of Superintendent Ryan Noss
2021-22

Dr. Ryan Noss is completing his sixth year as superintendent of the Corvallis School District. The COVID-19 pandemic continues to affect our community and our schools, but we were able to open schools in the spring and start on a regular schedule in September, keeping schools open through waves of virus variants. We have been able to keep students in classrooms with their teachers to do the important work of learning together. The district was able to celebrate the opening of new schools, build community partnerships to support the health of our community, increase access to mental health providers in our schools, add staff to the classrooms for our youngest students, and expand equity lessons to reach all grades. There are many more accomplishments to celebrate, but there have also been challenges. Students returned to school with unfinished learning and unmet needs, demanding more from our staff than ever before. Through the uncertainty of the second year of a historic public health crisis, Superintendent Noss has led our district with tremendous thoughtfulness, care, and attention to equity. He is a great thought partner and leader for the district. He remains calm and steady in his commitment to the students we serve. The Corvallis School Board feels that our district is fortunate to have Superintendent Noss serving our students and staff and finds his performance to be outstanding.

Student achievement

We are just beginning to understand the scope and impact of the disruptions to the 2019-20 and 2020-21 school years. Superintendent Noss has approached this challenge by putting students at the center of decision-making and nimbly responding to allocate resources in a manner that prioritizes student outcome. Using data to understand where support is needed to keep students moving forward to success, Superintendent Noss has invested in a reading specialist and trainer, added staffing in our elementary schools, and graduation coaches in our high schools. Where academic data is missing due to school disruptions, Superintendent Noss has used data from the Youth Truth survey to elevate the voice of our students. This enables our district to better understand our students and their experiences in school.

The challenges created by the pandemic will remain with us as students progress through school. As a district, we must serve all our students, not leaving behind groups that have historically fallen behind or been left out. We must use what we have learned from our students and the data to build a support infrastructure to address equity issues. The declines in reading scores and the number of 9th graders on track are very concerning, and the district is already allocating resources to respond to those issues. We must also respond to the lagging graduation rate of our students with disabilities and the Youth Truth survey results that show us that not all students feel safe and supported in our schools. Superintendent Noss has shown a commitment to equity, and we are confident he is capable of addressing these issues also.

Equitable systems

Superintendent Noss's commitment to equitable systems is not just talk. He seeks guidance from those with lived experience, listening to underrepresented communities and students. Equity is a thread through every aspect of district decision-making, planning, and operations. Leaders are supported as they create system changes. The expansion of the SAFE group into elementary school, new curriculum adoptions, professional development for staff, hiring of mental health staff from marginalized groups, continued success of the DLI program, launching of an Arabic program, and the relationship-building that has happened as a result of renaming schools are all examples of building equitable systems in our schools.

With these successes must come the acknowledgment that equity work is an ongoing project and work remains. The staff of color continues to feel othered among a predominantly white staff. Graduation rates for students with disabilities continue to lag. Families of students with special needs feel isolated if they are unable to communicate in English. In our Youth Truth results, we see that bullying and bias are a problem in our schools. We must do more to support unsupported communities to truly be working toward equitable systems. Superintendent Noss's willingness to learn and listen is evidence of his commitment to continuing to work to serve all our students equitably.

Real-world learning

Real-world learning is clearly one of Superintendent Noss's priorities. He effectively communicates the district's progress and success in this area as he seeks out community partners. We see the benefit of his focus reflected in positive outcomes for students who participate in CTE classes. Students in our schools have expanded opportunities for real-world learning with the significant improvement of CTE classrooms in our high schools, the STEM lab opening at Cheldelin, and the launch of the construction program at College Hill. Real-world and project-based learning in our elementary schools has been enhanced with the addition of science and art rooms, outdoor learning spaces, and school gardens. Learning transferable skills and exploring trades benefit our students, allowing them to apply academic knowledge to meet practical challenges. Under Superintendent Noss's leadership, we hope to see the development of new opportunities such as internships that would give students the chance to learn the human skills needed to be successful employees and expand real-world learning opportunities in the humanities and liberal arts. With Superintendent Noss's exhibited commitment to real-world learning and CTE, we are confident that the opportunities open to our students will continue to grow.

Health and wellness

In the last year, the Corvallis School District, under Superintendent Noss's leadership, has made a significant effort to support our students and staff's social, emotional, mental, and physical health and safety. His focus and steady leadership in planning the return to in-person learning and facing unforeseeable challenges such as the omicron wave has been exemplary.

The Corvallis School District is a state and national model in providing access to mental health care in schools. At a critical time for our students, we expanded our program and created mental health clinics in all of our buildings. The investment in counseling and mental health support staff has been crucial in meeting the high needs of our students. The focus on student experience and well-being has helped to mitigate unfinished learning.

Recognizing the stress and challenges faced by our staff, the district has made efforts to reduce stress by adjusting evaluation goals and professional development demands. The district worked with community partners to acknowledge the difficult but essential work staff is doing for our students and families.

Superintendent Noss worked with our public health department in a culturally and linguistically appropriate outreach effort to increase acceptance of COVID-19 vaccines. The district hosted vaccine clinics, allowing students and community members to get vaccinated in a safe and trusted location. The district's support of the vaccine effort demonstrates how strong leadership by a superintendent can benefit the whole community.

Long-rang facilities planning

Despite disruptions caused by the global pandemic, work on the bond project continued. Bond promises are being met on schedule and within the budget. The new Lincoln Elementary and Bessie Coleman Elementary buildings opened and the renovated and expanded Garfield Elementary building is occupied. CTE spaces in our high schools have been renovated. The library, cafeteria, and STEM lab at Cheldelin Middle School are in use. Extensive work at many other buildings is continuing and final projects are going out for bids. Our new spaces are student-centered support real-world learning, and are focused on equity.

Throughout the bond process, community concerns have been responded to thoughtfully and thoroughly. Bond updates were clear and timely. When adjustments to projects were needed, decisions were clearly communicated and well reasoned. Superintendent Noss demonstrated exemplary judgment, professionalism, and well-placed trust in integrating the project management team into the district. The result of these efforts has been a process that our district can be proud of and learning spaces that reflect the value our community puts on education.

Response to COVID-19

Superintendent Noss's has provided strong, steady, thoughtful leadership for our district and community throughout the pandemic. He kept the students at the center of his decision-making and was not confounded by changes in regulations and information or political pressures. Students returned to in-person learning safely following state protocols. Our district was able to keep schools open and staffed through the worst waves of the pandemic. Families were kept informed about protocol changes and exposures. Work with our unions during the process of planning to return to in-person learning ensured staff support of programmatic decisions. Efforts to support staff have made them feel acknowledged and valued.

Superintendent Noss has kept a long-term view in his pandemic planning. Throughout the pandemic, he and his leadership teams have remained focused on strategic priorities. Responsible use of district resources has allowed us to respond to the immediate need created by the pandemic without cutting programs. Superintendent Noss knows that our district will feel the impact of the pandemic long after it is over. Investing in programs such as the in-school mental health clinics will ensure that the needs of our students and families will be met over the long term.

In the last year, we have experienced the excitement of returning to in-person learning and the relief of having access to vaccines. We have also experienced the challenges, stresses, and uncertainty of the second year of a global pandemic. Divisions over pandemic response and equity and social justice work have made the work of educating our children challenging and sometimes scary. We are fortunate in Corvallis to have Dr. Ryan Noss serving as our superintendent. Students are always at the center of his work. His leadership and the work of the team he has built create strong schools and a strong community. He leads our district with steadfast intelligence and dedication. Superintendent Noss has excelled in his work over the last year and we look forward to collaborating with him to build a new, better normal for our students.

V. EDUCATION UPDATE: VACCINATION PROGRESS UPDATE

Superintendent Noss provided an update on vaccination rates in Benton County and the Corvallis School District. (The report is posted online with the informational packet of this meeting and will be filed with the official 2021-22 Board records.)

Superintendent Noss shared the following updates to the posted report:

- A team at Linus Pauling Middle School met with families primarily from Guatemala. Dr. Gabriel Ledger from Samaritan Health, with a health navigator and an interpreter, provided information and connected families with iPass and ParentSquare.
- Garfield and Lincoln Elementary Schools hosted vaccine clinics to prioritize racially and linguistically diverse families and families navigating poverty; all slots were filled with 210 first doses administered to five-11-year-old children.
- We continue to communicate the importance of reaching out to pediatricians and provider offices to schedule vaccinations; health navigators work to connect families with health providers.
- Benton County Health officials shared that through November 17, twenty percent of the five-11-year-olds in Benton County have received their first shot.
- We are expecting a test to stay program potentially by the end of November. When exposed, students would receive two tests within seven days of exposure to avoid quarantine.

Chair Al-Abdrabbuh offered the following comments:

- The Vaccine Taskforce, which includes school district personnel, public health officials, and other stakeholders, is working hard to deliver on the recommendations that the Board approved to provide education and vaccine access in our community.
- We will continue to be intentional with vaccine education in the community.
- The plan is to continue to receive updates from Superintendent Noss; there is no request for action at this time.
- The District will continue working to keep kids in school and continue the processes we are currently undertaking.

VI. EQUITY CURRICULUM UPDATE

Chair Al-Abdrabbuh stated the Board stands behind anti-racist values and the commitment to equity in operations and curriculum.

Superintendent Noss recognized the work Nancy Davila Williams contributed to the equity lessons.

Melissa Harder, Assistant Superintendent; Marcianne Rivero Koetje, Equity and ELL Coordinator; Nikki McFarland, Secondary Coordinator; and Amy Lesan, Elementary Coordinator, presented the report. (The slides and video are posted online with the informational packet of this meeting and will be filed with the official 2021-22 Board records.)

District staff provided the following responses to questions from the Board:

- We started staff equity training in 2017 with Courageous Conversations; the mission and focus continue to be on having all staff participate.
- Last year, elementary principals modeled the identity lessons with their building staff.
- All education staff were invited to four district-wide professional development opportunities where we engaged in teaching the equity lessons, the why, and how it connects to the District vision.
- Beyond training, the focus continues on shifting mindsets and encouraging staff to understand the importance of this work to our educational growth as a system.
- Continuing to find unique opportunities for engaging in these conversations and weaving them into the fabric of all that we do.
- At the elementary level, teachers created lessons around four equity topics. The lessons center around a book with varied activities that may look very different based on grade level but have similar outcomes. Some activities may be incorporated into the opening circle, which is already part of the Caring Schools Community. Teachers have an objective, some activity suggestions, books that align with the topic, and four to six lessons the teacher might incorporate over three months.
- At Middle and High school levels, teachers have been working on equity lessons in staff groups. The next step is to bring together the secondary Equity TOSAs and leaders to align.
- At the Middle School level, Cheldelin teachers created ten lessons that meet equity standards tied to the book "This Book Is Anti-Racist" by Tiffany Jewel. Who Am I, Growing Into My Identity, and Making Sense of the World are three topics that lessons are built around.
- At the secondary level, lessons are incorporated into different classes, such as homeroom and advisor classes, working with feedback from staff to determine the best strategies.
- Equity lessons must satisfy both Oregon Department of Education standards and Board policy.
- It is essential to understand that the curriculum has been created by many of our staff of color. We need to be careful when sharing it to protect them and ensure that information is not shared out of context in social media.

- Equity lessons are evolving, we can share objectives, but the staff has flexibility in presenting the lessons.
- Families with concerns regarding curriculum can meet with the teachers or administrators and walk through the lessons and discuss context.
- The District can provide a list of resources used in the curriculum to families.
- Students of color have shared that it matters when they see themselves in the curriculum, not just stories about white people and white historical perspectives.
- The equity lessons are embedded throughout the student learning experience.
- The District has been meeting with administrators when there are bias and microaggression incidents to ensure we are intentional in our understanding and responses.

VII. CONSOLIDATED ACTION

MOTION:

It was moved by Director Adams and seconded by Director Tominey to approve the Consolidated Action items.

Chair Al-Abdrabbuh shared that one budget committee vacancy is still available; it will be open until filled, and he encouraged community members to apply.

The motion was voted on and unanimously approved.

Assessment Program

The district's assessment program shall be designed for the purpose of determining district and school program improvement and individual student needs according to the requirements of the Oregon Administrative Rules. Each year the district shall determine each student's progress toward achieving federal, state, and local achievement requirements.

Assessments shall be used to measure the academic content standards and to identify students who meet or exceed the performance standards adopted by the State Board of Education. Accordingly, the district shall maintain the following assessment program:

1. Criterion-reference assessments, including performance-based assessments, content-based assessments, and other valid methods as may be required by state and federal requirements;
2. Individual diagnostic and ability evaluations in all grades when students have been referred and parental permission obtained;
3. Assessments by individual teachers;
4. Other school-wide and grade-level assessments

It is the intent of the Board that progress be measured in a manner that clearly enables the student, parents, and the district to know whether the student is making progress toward meeting or exceeding academic content standards. District, school, and individual results shall be reported to the Board, parents, and the community, as prescribed by law.

The district shall make additional services or alternative educational or public school options available to any student who has not met or has exceeded all of the state-required academic content standards. Additionally, students in schools receiving Title I moneys that have been identified as in need of improvement, corrective action, or restructuring by ODE will be provided supplemental services and public school options as required by law.

The district shall not discriminate in the methods, practices and materials used for assessment, evaluating, and counseling students on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or marital status. Discrimination complaints shall be processed in accordance with established procedures.

Staff will receive in-service education in the use of designated assessments and interpretation of assessment results.

A parent on behalf of their student or an adult student may annually opt-out of taking Oregon Statewide English Language Arts and/or Math summative assessments by completing and submitting ODE's opt-out form¹ to the school. The district shall provide supervised study time for students who are excused from participating in the assessment. Parents and adult students will be provided the required notice and access to forms by the district that include a time frame in which statewide assessments will take place.

A parent on behalf of their student or an adult student may annually request exemption from the Oregon Statewide Science and/or English Language Proficiency (ELPA) Assessments for disability or religious reasons. Such a request must be submitted in writing to the school for consideration.

The act of student-initiated test impropriety is prohibited. A student that participates in an act of student-initiated test impropriety will be subject to discipline. "Student-initiated test impropriety" means student conduct that is inconsistent with the Test Administration Manual or accompanying guidance; or results in a score that is invalid.

The superintendent shall ensure a periodic review and evaluation of the district's assessment program is conducted.

Background

The district may enroll nonresident students via an Interdistrict Transfer Agreement or by Court Placement. Corvallis School District will not accept enrollment by tuition agreement. The district will not discriminate based on race, sex, religion, disability, income level, residence, etc. Students accepted will abide by behavioral rules set for all students, resident or nonresident.

Revised/Readopted: 6/26/06, 2/6/12, 3/10/14, 5/10/18, 5/9/19, 5/7/20

Admission of Nonresident Students

The district may enroll nonresident students as follows:

1. Interdistrict Transfer Agreement. By written consent of the affected school boards, the student becomes a resident student of the attending (receiving) district thereby allowing the attending district to receive State School Fund moneys.
2. Court placement. If a juvenile court determines it is in the student's best interest, a student placed in a substitute care program outside the district will continue to be considered a resident student and allowed to attend the school the student attended prior to placement. The public agency placing the student in a substitute care program will be responsible for the transportation of the student, if public agency funds are available.

The district will not enroll students by a tuition agreement.

The Board shall deny regular school admission to nonresident students who are under expulsion from another district for a weapons policy violation. The Board may, based on district criteria, deny regular school or alternative education program admission to nonresident students who are under expulsion from another district for reasons other than a weapons policy violation.

Consent for Admission of a Nonresident Student by Interdistrict Transfer

Annually, the Board shall establish the number of student transfer requests into the district, and out of the district, to which consent will be given for the upcoming school year.

The Board may not consider nor ask for any information from the student about race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, ethnicity, national origin, disability, health, whether a student has an individualized education program (IEP) or the terms of that IEP, talented and gifted identification, income level, residence, proficiency in English, athletic ability, or academic records. The Board may not request or require the student to participate in an interview, tour any of the schools or facilities, or otherwise meet with any representatives of the school or district prior to the district deciding whether to give consent.

The Board may only ask for the student's name, contact information, date of birth, grade level, whether the student may be given priority on consent for admission see the following paragraph for priorities), information about which school(s) the student prefers to attend, and whether the student is currently expelled.

If the number of students seeking consent exceeds the number of spaces, the Board will use an equitable lottery selection process. The process will give priority to students based on space who have:

1. Siblings currently enrolled in the district; and
2. Attended a public charter school located in the same district in which the student seeks to attend, for three consecutive years, completed the highest grade offered by the public charter school, and did not enroll and attend school in another district following completion of that highest grade in the public charter school.

The Board may revise the maximum number of students to whom consent will be given at a time other than the annual date established by the Board if there are no pending applications for consent.

If the Board decides not to give consent to a student the Board must provide a written explanation to the student. Decisions regarding transfer requests made by the Board will be final.

The district may require minimum standards of behavior once the student has been accepted. The minimum standards must be the same for all students that are given consent. The district is not allowed to establish minimum standards for academics as criteria for the student to remain in the district. Students whose consent is revoked for violation of behavior standards will not be allowed to apply for consent to return to this district in the same or the following school year.

The Board may determine the length of time for which the consent is given. Once approved, a transfer ordinarily remains in effect until the student completes grade 5, 8, or 12 (the highest grade at that school). Nonresident students may continue enrollment in the district but need to submit an online transfer request for approval to the next school level. The student will not need to seek permission more than once from the same district of origin to transfer into the district. Any limitations in length of time must be applied consistently among all students to whom consent is given.

The district is not required to provide transportation outside the boundaries of the district. The student will be allowed to use existing bus routes and transportation services of the district. Transportation will be provided if required by federal law.

The attending district is responsible for a free appropriate public education for any student on an IEP.

Background

This policy, written collectively with the BIPOC community, acknowledges the historical, generational, and compounding reality of the systems and structures that have intentionally created inequities for others. Corvallis School District continues its commitment to dismantling and rebuilding the educational structure that has perpetuated blatant and subtle racial inequity. Racial Educational Equity

Corvallis School District acknowledges the historical, generational, and compounding reality of the systems and structures that have intentionally created opportunities for some groups and perpetuated racial inequities for others. This Racial Educational Equity Policy was written collectively with the voice and perspectives of our Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC) community and students. We will use the word ‘we’ when referring to the district as we believe we are all responsible and accountable for the academic growth and well-being of every student in our district. We are committed to the success of every student in each of our schools. For that success to occur, we are committed to racial educational equity by recognizing and dismantling institutional barriers and creating access and opportunities that benefit each student. We recognize that the historic, persistent racial opportunity gap is unacceptable, and these disparities contradict the beliefs and values that the district articulates. We will achieve equity when student identity, including racial identity, does not predict or predetermine success in school.

Oregon’s history has impacted specific groups of people of color differently and the context of that treatment matters. In order to advance equity and racial justice, individuals and communities need a better understanding of the state’s historical treatment of certain groups, based on race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, immigrant status, and gender expression. This policy is a vital step in raising awareness and understanding.

Racial educational equity is based on the principles of justice in allocating resources, opportunity, treatment, and success for each student.

Racial educational equity promotes the real possibility of racial equality of educational results for each student and between diverse groups of students. Racial equity strategies are intentional, systemic, and applied across all district operations with an emphasis on teaching and learning processes. We acknowledge that current and historical systems and structures have perpetuated racial inequities in health, safety, nutrition, housing and environmental, as well as academic outcomes. Rather than perpetuate racism, we must take responsibility to dismantle it.

To achieve racial educational equity, we are committed to:

1. Narrowing the opportunity gap between student groups while raising the achievement of all students.

¹Some data is suppressed to protect confidential student information.

²“Sexual orientation” is defined by Oregon Revised Statute (ORS) 174.100(7) to mean an individual’s actual or perceived heterosexuality, homosexuality, bisexuality or gender identity, regardless of whether the individual’s gender identity, appearance, expression or behavior differs from that traditionally associated with the individual’s sex at birth.

2. Consistently using districtwide and individual school level data¹, disaggregated by race, ethnicity, special education, gender, and socioeconomic status to inform district decision making.
3. Promoting opportunities in all aspects of education, including extracurricular activities, to ensure equitable representation in advanced learning such as talented and gifted and advanced placement courses. Eliminate disparate representation in special education and discipline referrals.
4. Preparing all students to graduate and succeed in a diverse local, national, and global community.
5. De-centering the dominant narratives that stereotype people of color.
6. Honoring the culture, language, existing knowledge, and lived experiences that students bring to the classroom and using it to inform our teaching practice.

In order to achieve racial educational equity for each and every student, we will:

1. Ensure every student has equitable access to high quality culturally responsive curriculum that includes the multiple perspectives and contributions of other cultures and identities.
2. Give every student equitable access to educational resources such as inclusive classroom libraries, academic support, and facilities. Ensure students are not limited by their level of English acquisition. Equitable resource allocation will close the opportunity gap so that all students can thrive academically.
3. Review and examine existing policies, programs, professional development, and procedures through an equity lens for the promotion of racial educational equity. Develop all applicable new policies, programs, and procedures with racial educational equity as a priority.
4. Remedy the practices—including assessment—that lead to over- and under-representation of students of color in specialized programs including sports, clubs, performing arts and other school-sponsored activities.
5. Recruit, retain and support a racially conscious and culturally responsive workforce that includes racial, gender, and linguistic diversity, including administrative, instructional and support personnel, coaches, counselors, and behavior staff.
6. Ensure that every employee in the district is responsible and accountable for the learning and achievement of all students and for building a culture that reinforces this responsibility. The responsibility for dismantling racial disparities lies with adults, not students.

7. Strengthen employees' knowledge and skills for eliminating opportunity gaps and other racial disparities, as well as increase their capacity to understand the root causes of oppression.
8. Create schools with a welcoming, inclusive culture and environment that reflects and supports diversity of the student and staff population, their families, and their community, and creates a deep sense of belonging. Asset and strength based schools celebrate student and family cultures, languages, and lived experiences.
9. Embrace multiple perspectives in learning and growing toward more racially equitable educational outcomes. These diverse voices should include students and may also include families, government agencies, institutions of higher learning, early childhood education organizations, other districts, community-based organizations, local businesses, and community members of color (including those whose first language may not be English.)
10. Create multiple pathways to success, including college preparation and vocational training, in order to meet the needs of a racially diverse student body, and actively encourage, support, and expect high academic outcomes for each student.
11. Guarantee culturally responsive materials, assessments and courses that reflect the diversity of our nation and are geared toward the understanding and appreciation of race, ethnicity, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, culture, socioeconomic status, language, ability, and other attributes that contribute to the uniqueness of each individual.

Every Corvallis School District employee is responsible for the success and achievement of all students. The Board recognizes that these are long term goals that require significant work and resources, as well as courageous action and boldness, to implement across all schools. As such, the Board directs the Superintendent to develop an action plan with clear objectives and metrics, prioritizing staffing and budget allocations and making the action plan accessible to the community.

The Superintendent will report on the action plan and progress towards these goals at least annually.

January Financial Statements (Unaudited)

NO ACTION REQUIRED

Background

The Statement of Resources and Requirements for the General Fund for the period ending January 31, 2021 and January 31, 2022 follow this report. Year-to-date operating revenues through the end of January 2022 total $66.0 million or 80.2% of total budgeted operating revenues as compared to $64.6 million or 80.3% through the end of January 2021.

Total resources are projected to be $2.2 million more than budgeted, primarily due to a higher than projected beginning fund balance. The beginning fund balance reflects an increase of $1.6 million over the adopted budget of $12.9 million. Overall, total operating revenues in 2020-21 were 100.1% of budget while total operating expenditures were 91.4% of budget.

Year-to-date operating expenditures through the end of January 2022 total $38.2 million or 44.1% of total budgeted operating expenditures as compared to $35.7 million or 41.4% through the end of January 2021. Projected underspending in 2021-22 is expected to be approximately 1.9% of the adopted budget.

Projected resources and requirements through June 30, 2022 result in an ending fund balance of $13.2 million, or 16.0% of projected operating revenues. The projected ending fund balance reflects a decrease in fund balance, or operating deficit, of $1.3 million. All General Fund reserves are projected to be at the designations outlined in board policy on June 30, 2022.
